

A message from Scadding Court Community Centre

Over the last two decades, Scadding Court has strived to provide a range of activities, programs and services to our local community in the heart of downtown Toronto. The year 2001 was another exciting year that brought a number of initiatives that demonstrate growth, positive change and reflect the nature of the unique and wonderful community we work and live in. We are very happy to say that our direction, energy and focus have come together in a very concrete way over this last year.

What happened in 2001? With the support of businesses, government, health and educational institutions, we provided a wide range of innovative, client-focused community-based services. Health services expanded and now include four family health clinics, a community chiropractor, the Peer Nutrition Program and regular eye clinic services. Two videos on health education were produced and a volunteer "Foreign-Trained Professionals in Healthcare" program was started. This summer, a newly formed house basketball league will take a trip to Mongolia and China to participate in an exciting inter-city basketball tournament. For children and their families, the School Readiness program was introduced and enhancements were made to After Four programs- the new Walking School Bus program and After School Snacks program currently run at capacity with regular requests for expansion. The Centre for Excellence grew as well; a drop-in program is available for people with disabilities and new recreation programs are being explored.

We are delighted with our new partnership with Alexandra Park Community Centre; we will work together to meet the needs and build capacity in our common community. Along with volunteers, residents and local partners, we will continue to improve our services and be a pioneer in all aspects of community development and programming.

A big THANK YOU to all the people who choose to come to Scadding Court- your energy, creativity and vision make Scadding Court the dynamic place that it is today!

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Health Services

Over the last year, SCCC's health department grew from a few walk-in clinics into the development of Cross-Cultural Health Services (CCHS) offering Family Health, Women's Health, and Chiropractic clinics. 15 volunteer foreign-trained health care professionals have been taking part in an ongoing job skills training programme.

The Cervical Cancer Prevention Initiative (CCPI) was officially launched and its two health education videos were premiered at the October 16th 2001 press conference.

Inter-departmental and external collaboration has resulted in the creation of a CCHS webpage, a clinical database, and various public health education workshops, including Peer Nutrition.

The health department is an active member of the Central-Eastern Cancer Prevention Coalition, the Princess Margaret Hospital's Patient Education Advisory Board, the Healthy Heart Living group, and the Breast and Cervical Cancer Prevention Coalition of York Region.

THANK YOU, VOLUNTEERS!

SCCC thanks all the volunteers that offered their time and support for our community over the past year.

Urban Agriculture at SCCC

Last year the Urban Agriculture Program flourished. Starting with "Seedy Saturday", a city-wide garden event, in March 2001, six other special events were held throughout the growing season. These included: the fourth annual plant sale and swap, our start-of-season garden planting day, the installation of a community fruit orchard, the planting of a native plant and wild rose garden in front of the Sanderson Public Library, an herb garden work bee, and our annual clean-up and harvest festival in October 2001.

Gardeners and community members also participated in hands-on workshops on garden planning and design, composting, and herbal remedies as part of the UA program activities during last year. The children's garden program ran throughout the summer as part of Scadding Court's summer day camp activities. And students from Ryerson Community Public School (neighbours to Scadding Court) have participated in the UA program since September 2001 to plan and design a Community Peace Garden to be planted at their school in the spring of 2002.

ATHLETICS & RECREATION

Apart from all the regular athletic and recreation programs offered by Scadding Court Community Centre, 2001-2 marked the return of our After-School Snack Program and the start of the "Walking School Bus" Program. Both programs proved to be very successful. Our After-School Snack Program focused on providing each and every child from our After-School Programs with a healthy and much needed snack. The overwhelmingly successful "Walking School Bus" Program allowed our staff to actually pick up children from local schools, bring them to our After-School Programs and escort them home once the program was finished. Many parents and schools requested to be part of these two programs. Due to limited staff and resources we could not keep up with the demand. We look forward to the continuation of these programs in the fall of 2002.

It's 20 years old this year! A truly unique program that continues to respond to the childcare needs of a very diverse community and to support families by offering affordable, flexible and high quality childcare to those who do not have access to other child care support. Support is provided through respite and relief childcare for those in need, through parenting information and resources, through drop-in programs, as well as referrals to other programs. It is a true alternative to traditional childcare program. Trained staff are from diverse cultural backgrounds and speak several languages which provides a positive environment for the children and the community. Support from the community shows how valuable this program has become.

In 2002 we received funding to start a fabulous School Readiness program for children 3 - 5 years, which enables families and children to gain an understanding of the school system and become prepared to be a part of it. It's exciting to watch a child become self-assured and confident in his or her skills. We are thrilled to have such a great program to help children succeed in the school system.
